

A Walk up Fan Nedd
22nd Nov 2024

The spectacular cliffs of Fan Hir looking stunning.

First sight of the southwestern approach to Fan Nedd with 886 m Pen y Fan in the distance.

Gorgeous fluffy moss grasses.

Gotta love scree.

A nice iconic shot of the western slope of Fan Nedd.

Looking west towards the 802m Fan Brecheiniog (second peak from the end).

Looking east towards Pen y Fan with Fan Llia (632m) in the foreground.

The route to Fan Nedd involved a gruelling 2 hr pathless trudge through snow covered but still very wet and mushy moss and knee high clumps of grasses. Feet were soaking wet and frozen and my mood darkened considerably. Total misery :-).

Another look at the impressive Fan Hir with Fan Gyhrych (725m) in the foreground.

The beautiful textbook glacial valley that slides off the near vertical craggy northern slope of Fan Nedd.

The mighty Fan Gyhirych.

The magnificent western slopes of Fan Nedd (663m) is a good shot to end on.
